What this product does

The D-Link Gigabit DGS-1100 Series switch family features a range of compact, web managed switches designed with ease of use in mind. Configuration is a breeze with the intuitive web-based management interface or by using D-Link's Network Assistant software utility. DGS-1100 Series switches are ideal for growing businesses looking for simple port expansion with network management, optimisation and security features.

Easy to install and maintain

The DGS-1100-08 is managed using an intuitive software utility or a web-based management interface ideal for users who have no advanced network training. The management interface provides tools which enable faster installation, easier maintenance, and better visibility into network health – all contributing to a smarter network overall. Configuration of VLANs, QoS, Link Aggregation and other features is easy and straightforward.
