

HP Workstations

What customers are saying

If you're looking for the ultimate in computing performance, HP Workstations have it all: power, expandability and affordability with world-class functionality. Whether you're designing a skyscraper, editing a feature-length animated film or keeping up with the newest business and productivity applications, HP Workstations are equipped to handle the most demanding tasks with ease.

New York University

"HP Workstations are workhorses. The work flow and response rate of 2D and 3D projects in real-time is flawless – there are minimal interruptions and the rendering speed is much faster than what we were working with before."

Mikhail Bayder, system administrator
Center for Advanced Digital Applications, New York University

Orange County Choppers

"HP technology is deeply embedded in our entire company, which definitely speeds things up. The HP xw8400 Workstation is the most solid and dependable workstation we've ever used."

Paul Teutul, Jr., lead designer
Orange County Choppers (featured on Discovery Channel's American Chopper television series)

DreamWorks Animation

"Our job as technologists is to find and make the latest and greatest technology, and put that into the hands of the artists to enable filmmakers to ultimately create their vision of the film. Today, the latest and greatest workstations belong to HP."

Ed Leonard, CTO
DreamWorks Animation

Smoky Hill (Colo.) High School

"I want our students to get used to pushing their talents to the limit and managing projects in real-world conditions. The students love the challenge, especially when they have access to premium equipment like HP Workstations."

Dan Cornell, digital media arts instructor
Smoky Hill (Colo.) High School

Toyota Racing Development

"For us, the bottom line is winning races. If one or more Toyota drivers are standing on the podium at the end of race day, then we've done our job. We're confident HP Workstations will continue to help us do just that."

Jaxon Tate, IT Systems Support Engineer
Toyota Racing Development

Denver Museum of Nature & Science

"The quality of visual effects in our planetarium is absolutely crucial to the overall visitor experience. With our HP Workstations, we can reach new heights in visualization, making the planetarium a true launch pad for visitors to gain new perspectives about the universe."

Dan Neafus, operations manager
Gates Planetarium, Denver Museum of Nature & Science
