We're changing the way people stay in touch. You may have heard of us. You may even already use us. If you do, thank you. However, unfortunately there are still lots of people who haven't heard about Skype or may be unsure of us. Some of them may even be friends.

Don't worry.

We have some nice ideas on how you can get them excited about Skype.

What is Skype?

Skype is a piece of software that allows people around the world to talk to each other for free.

Sure, we've heard this all before. As a company, we're all used to that notion. But then Mister Wu, Smith and Blanc aren't. They may know nothing about Skype. For all we know, they may think the name is some sort of sexually transmitted disease, pyramid scheme or a car made in deepest, darkest Bohemia.

So once again, Skype is for the people. Skype is everything that a telecoms company is not: generous, interested and proactive. We allow the people to talk each other and the world for free. That will always be news.

Skype is good for families

Skype has simple ways to talk to several people at once – so it's like you've got the whole family together in your lounge, even though you might live thousands of miles apart. Families can enjoy talking for as long as you like, without worrying about the cost or the distance. Plus with features like conference calling, free video calling and group chats it's never been easier to stay in touch with all of the family no matter how far apart you are.

Skype is good for communities

With Skype you can talk to anyone, anywhere for free. Skype has changed the way that 100 million people from all around the world communicate with people they know.

Skype is good for business

Skypecasts also allow Skype users to meet new people who share their interests and bring internet conversations to life, in calls with up to 100 people.

Free your mind

Today's world is all about communication: Chatting, messaging, phone conferences, file transfer. Exchanging thoughts, ideas and opinions. Every day in business and private life. The need for bringing communication cost down is more present than ever. So why not taking advantage of internet and the successful Skype software together with smart and convenient Freecom products? What can you do with Skype? Free calling to Skype online contacts. Cheap calls to landlines and mobiles via SkypeOut including voicemail service and call forwarding. Phone conferences with up to 5 online parties. Video calls (only for PCs), instant messaging even to offline contacts and file transfer (P2P).

Freecom offers you four stylish communication devices for people to interact and maximize productivity. The award winning Freecom Internet Phone as well as the Freecom Internet Headset are Skype certified for a seamless user experience. For natural, clear conversations try our Internet Conference Phone solutions and get the ultimate hands free Skype experience.

On the following pages, you can find out more about our new communication products. At Freecom we create new products from a consumer's perspective; convenience and quality are the key factors.

Free your mind!
